

Absolutely too much violence and sex on TV. Having raised children through the era's of Muppets to Sex & the City the range and change of TV and lack of responsibility is appalling. Foul language and exposure of body parts with nothing left to the imagination is not necessary. I do not have cable because I am not willing to pay for such programming. I select not to economically fuel such industry trash.